to libraries

Together we provide a truly pan-European coverage.

With over 150 years of experience between us, we are expert and efficient at supplying academic and research publications from across Europe, with specialist skills in sourcing publications from:
Italy, Spain, Portugal, France and Greece (Casalini Libri)
Scandinavia, Central Europe, France, UK and USA (Erasmus)

We work with many of the world's leading libraries.

We offer extensive bibliographic databases and user-friendly online ordering workflows.

Our services include:

- personalised customer assistance in 5 languages and dedicated contact
- customised invoices and reports according to your specifications
- provision of MARC records
- EDI capabilities and integration with systems such as ALMA

We are committed to the development of new solutions for information management and knowledge sharing.

Since 2016 Casalini and @Cult have been active and instrumental in the design, development and implementation of linked data technology for libraries, and have collaborated in the creation of the Share Family, a global community of libraries, archives, museums, consortia and Library Service Platforms (LSP).

The Share Family...

- supports its members in the transition from traditional cataloguing environments to innovative models based on linked open data and collaborative entity management
- connects, enhances and extends networks of information
- enables its members to keep pace with web technology as it evolves

Developed by libraries, for libraries, and supported by @Cult's technological tools and expertise, the Share Family creates connections across the bibliographic catalogues and authority files of libraries with similar characteristics in shared discovery environments. ## Our growing digital library provides access to high quality research e-content.

The Torrossa Digital Library now offers access to over 750,000 e-books and 1,200 e-journals from more than 580 important specialist academic publishers and university presses.

Created in 2000, Casalini Libri's collection of Italian e-content was the first of its kind. The catalogue was further enriched with content in other Romance languages from 2004 onwards and our collaboration with Erasmus Boekhandel since 2020 has allowed us to widen our coverage and include in Torrossa French and English language content from prestigious international publishing groups, from across Europe, the UK and US.

The Torrossa Digital Library offers you:

- a single access point and single licence for all content
- IP access for an unlimited number of simultaneous users
- permanent access to content purchased

Choose from an extensive catalogue and flexible purchase formulas:

- thematic and publisher collections
- tailored collections/pick & choose options
- single title purchasing
- PDA

Benefit from our technological infrastructure for integration, resource management, discovery and security:

- MARC21 bibliographic records for all e-books purchased
- direct permalinks to all journal titles
- our collaboration with major discovery services, federated search engines and link resolvers
- COUNTER compliant usage statistics
- long-term preservation in archives such as CLOCKSS and Portico

Our companies share a single vision: we offer the very best services to the Library world. Together we believe we can do this better, strengthening our coverage and providing a more efficient use of technological resources, while maintaining the excellent customer service for which we are known.

Established in 1958, Casalini Libri is an international bibliographic agency and leading supplier of publications from across Europe. Its personalised services for libraries facilitate selection and acquisitions workflows, provide access to electronic editions through the Torrossa Digital Library, which hosts an ever-increasing catalogue of quality HSS scholarly e-content, and support the library community in optimising new opportunities such as BIBFRAME and linked data.

A Rome-based software house specializing in the design and development of solutions for information management and knowledge sharing, @Cult is a leader internationally in the field of Cultural Heritage. Its awareness of the changes required by digital transformation and its commitment to providing solutions makes @Cult the ideal centre for research and development for the operational needs of the Casalini group.

Founded in Amsterdam in 1934, Erasmus Antiquariaat en Boekhandel quickly became a preeminent name in the international book trade, specializing in art and art history.

Since 1984, the company has provided a comprehensive service to university, research and specialist libraries. Its subsidiary in Paris, Librairie Erasmus, was founded in 1990 to guarantee efficient delivery of French publications. Qualified booksellers in Amsterdam and Paris continue to provide personal and reliable customer service.
